Employment history

Bank of Mexico — November 2021 - July 2025

Economist at the General Directorate of Economic Research, Management of Prices and Wages

I proposed and carried out analyses on inflation for the Bank's governing board, I helped to design and test a new consumer inflation expectations survey for Banco de México and I co-authored a paper based on the results, published in the Journal of Economic Psychology. I also managed and automated day-to-day information requirements.

El Colegio de México — March - October 2021

Research Assistant to Laura Juárez González, Ph.D.

I co-authored a paper on how Uber drivers trade-off work flexibility and income. To this end, I researched and summarized the relevant literature, cleaned databases, and made descriptive and event study analyses.
